Reprography

At our reprography department we undertake reproduction projects / traditional printing, in black and white, color, formats up to 160 cm wide, as well as any type of finishing and binding jobs.

We also specialize in developing projects for engineering and construction companies, adapting them to their specific needs, scanning projects in A3 formats, preparing plans, incorporating or recording CDs / DVDs, controlling and complying with the binding and screen printing standards of covers for different government bodies. Our experts will also attend to your needs for the preparation of custom sized boxes, with the different official colors, and many options for closures, handles, etc.

In our digital printing center you will find a wide range of finishes and types of binding ideal for your projects and reprographics.

PLANMAKERS

Print management

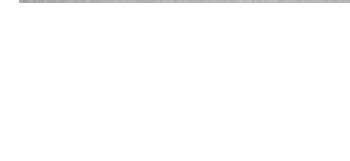

Printmanagement in its pure state. True 360° Graphic Solutions.

It makes no difference if it is working day or a holiday, if production has to be done in summer or winter, the quantity, the technology to be implemented, formats, media or final handling.

When what matters is to fully optimize the budget and comply with the schedule established by the client, our professionals provide a considerable added value based on their knowledge accumulated over 30 years of experience related to media, inks, printing techniques, finishes, handling and national and/or international distribution channels.

We collaborate closely with the customer in order to better determine the best production and distribution strategy for product launches, image production, special promotions, sales campaigns, conferences, presentations or conventions.

The entire Printmakers infrastructure and that of our external collaborators made available for a single or numerous projects.

What we do

360° Graphic Solutions. At Printmakers we offer graphic printing services while implementing a wide variety of technologies and formats, offset or digital, in order to execute the production of your corporate stationery, marketing campaigns and training material, all using standard or customized formats: our graphic production is completely adapted to your projects and needs.

Areas

Our market presence is completely cross-disciplinary, with an extended customer base in numerous business areas, both in the public and private sectors: IT, national / international fashion companies, medical and pharmaceutical laboratories, public organizations, conferences planners, events, sports clubs, food companies, services, automotive, energy companies and so on.

Technology

Without excellent technology partners it would be impossible to achieve optimal results and the continuous improvement of our processes.

For this reason we collaborate with the best media vendors, printing machinery manufacturers, software, and finishing providers.

Our strategic plan includes significant investments in order to adapt to the needs of the market, having recently acquired 5 color offset printers, the latest generation color and black and white digital printing presses, as well as various large format printers; added to our fleet of finishing and binding machinery, this equipment allow us to produce excellent quality jobs and service any local, national or international graphics project.

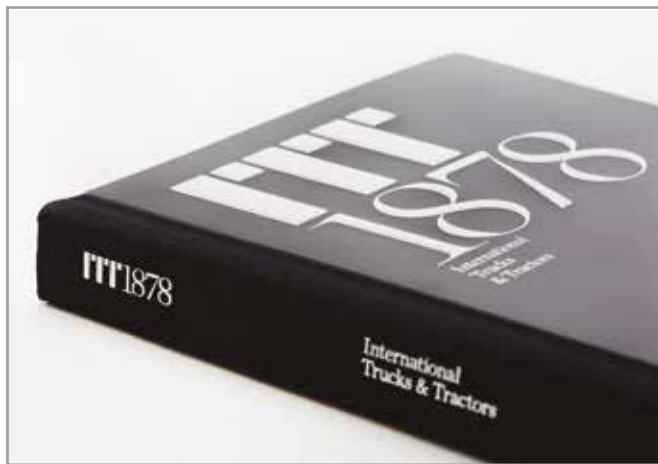

Customers

We have extensive experience collaborating with departments of marketing, purchasing, general services, Human Resources, etc., for specific or continuous graphics projects, participating in all the phases of the process, from the design of the campaign and its graphic production, to picking and distribution to anywhere in the world.
